

THE BIBLE QUESTION

Rev. Dr. H. H. George Addresses a Large Audience.

IN THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Noted Divine Attracted Deep Attention in the Matter Which is Just Now Deeply Agitating the Public Mind, and the Universal Verdict is That He Understands the Subject He so Eloquent Discussed.

The First Presbyterian church was crowded last night, it being a union meeting of the First Presbyterian and the First United Presbyterian congregations to hear Rev. Dr. H. H. George on questions of moral reform.

Dr. George is a powerful speaker of unusual ability. He has had twenty-five years experience in his work. He was for nineteen years president of Geneva college and has traveled extensively in Europe. He is, in this country, one of the highest authorities on the subject of moral reform. A very deep interest was manifested throughout the entire service. Any one who attended that meeting would understand that the question of the bible in the schools is not a dead question and that the school board was emphatically wrong in supposing that the Christian people are asleep in regard to the matter, or do not want the bible in the public school. We give a full report of Dr. George's speech, because there will, no doubt, be many who could not attend, and who would like to read the words of the great orator.

Doctor George began by saying that there are only two theories of government—the secular theory, which regards the government only as a corporation for the transaction of certain business. This he called the left-handed theory. The other is the theory that God is the author of government.

Referring then to the secular theory, he took as an example a bank. Take one of your banks in East Liverpool. You go in today, you go out tomorrow. It is a purely voluntary act. But you are born into a government whether you want to be or not. You can't help it. If you travel to the islands of the sea you are still under some government. It is not a voluntary act. Who ever heard of a bank taxing the people for the support of the schools? Yet a state does this and has a right to do it. Who ever heard of a corporation—a bank, arresting a man for committing a crime, trying him and then taking him to the gallows and hanging him till he is dead? But a state does this and has a right to do it; for it gets its right from God; then there is a vast difference between this secular theory of government and the divine plan that God has given. But let us look a little further into this theory. Let us put the Bible and God out of the schools. Then to be consistent you must take prayer out of congress. One of the most impressive scenes I have ever looked upon is when the clock strikes 12 to see that great body of congress rise and stand reverently while they are led to the throne of grace in the prayer of the chaplain. Now, to be consistent, we must put prayer out of congress, for that is an act of worship. Then you must stop the religious services of our seamen, if this is purely a secular government—only a company of people banded together to do certain business. The chaplain is paid out of your money and mine to minister to the needs of poor, sick and dying seamen. We must stop all that if this nation is only a corporation for the transaction of certain business, for this is a religious act.

Then, to be consistent, you must put the oath out of the courts of justice. What is an oath? It is the most solemn of all acts of worship—more solemn I believe than the communion service, where you partake of the broken body and shed blood of the Savior. It is a promise with hand uplifted before God that what you say you are willing to meet at the judgment bar of God—if true, to receive a reward, if false to be judged for it. But the oath must be put out if we take the secular theory that the bible and God must be put aside.

Then the Bible must be put out of the schools, if we accept this secular theory of government. Now you build a school house. I suppose some school houses have been built without very much religion. Then you get your text books. They must not have the name of God in, for we have put the Bible and God and that sort of thing out of the school. But how are you to get God out of the text books? Only a short time ago they tried it in New York City. The directors of the school board took the books home and actually tried to cut out the references to God, until they had such ragged, fragmentary books that they themselves were ashamed of and took them away and burned them. When you cut out the references to the Bible and to God, you have a ragged thing with but little left, except the two covers, and that ought to be burned. I would nearly as soon have a book made up of the gems from the sacred writings of the heathen religions as that ragged thing. Now you have got the Bible out of the schools and you employ a teacher who is not to teach anything about God or the Bible. Well let us see. Here is a class of bright boys, I see some of them here tonight, they begin with spelling. They spell words of one syllable—right, wrong, good, bad. Now the boy asks, "What does right mean?" The teacher looks about for a definition. He dare not go to God or the Bible, for they are put out of the school; so in looking about he sees that a number of years ago it was right in the south to hold slaves and the same thing was wrong in the north. Polygamy is right in Utah and wrong in East Liverpool. So both the teacher and scholar are getting more and more confused. Then they call in Webster and after several definitions he says: "Right is conformity with the conditions of man and the will of God." But God and the Bible are put out of the schools, so Mr. Webster you must go out. So we have Webster out of the schools. Then there is no definition of right and spelling must go out of the schools.

Take astronomy. And here we have our class of boys a little larger now. How far is the sun? Surely there can not be much religion in finding how far the sun is from the earth. But the bright boy asks: "Who made the sun? How did it get up there, and what is it doing?" So the teacher says: "I know, but I dare not tell. We have put the bible and God out of the schools. I don't dare tell." So astronomy must go out of the schools.

Then take U. S. History. Surely you can teach that without any reference to God and the bible. What is history? Stonewall Jackson fought such a battle at such a time. This happened on such a day. Is that history? No, that is the stuff almanacs are made of. That is mere annals. History is doing the cause and then seeing how it works, then forming it, shaping and welding it, until you have one great system, the cause to the effect. Well then take the history of the United States, and the first thing you read about is the Puritans, the Pilgrim fathers. And the first 100 pages of every U. S. history that is fit to be read is about the bible and God's dealing with His people. Then all the succeeding history is permeated with the bible and God. So U. S. history must go out if God and the Bible go out of our schools. Now there is one little thing I understand can be taught in the schools without the bible or God. That is writing. But writing is merely a mechanical action, like sawing a board off—like Blind Tom, the pianist, who could play wonderfully though he knew scarcely enough to eat his own dinner. Some of the greatest scholars are the poorest writers and some of less than average ability are the best penmen. It is merely mechanical. See how poor a thing the merely secular theory is. Now we have two enemies to our public schools. The first of these is the Roman Catholic church. I say it in all kindness to the Catholics. That church goes on the theory that the church is above the state and has a right to dictate to the state; there can be no more dangerous fallacy. The state has a right to educate her subjects.

The other enemy is secularism. This is a very dangerous enemy. The cry is, you must not have the Bible in the schools.

Now this is what put the Bible out of the schools. I will stop long enough to give you the history of the case. It was in Cincinnati about twenty years ago. I was there at the time. The school board was one that perpetuated itself. When one member died or moved away another was appointed in his place. There was an infidel and a Jew on the board. They watched and got other Jews or infidels on until they had a majority. Then while Cincinnati slept, the Board said the Bible should not be read in the schools. The next night all the churches were lighted, and all the ministers thundered against the action of the board.

Some good man got out an injunction against the action of the board. It was carried to the supreme court, where three judges decided that the word "Religion," which is in our State Constitution, means the Christian religion, and therefore there is authority in our constitution for the reading of the Bible. It was then appealed by the board to the supreme

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Interviewed by a Representative of the News Review

REGARDING THE BIBLE QUESTION

Some Members of the Board Readily Submitted to be Interviewed, and Expressed Their Views Without Hesitation, While Others Absolutely Refused to Talk.

The following is the opinion of W. L. Smith respecting the reading of the Bible in the public schools of East Liverpool:

"I am opposed to the reading of the Bible in the public schools, and will not sanction any move in that direction. The children of parents of various denominations have rights which should be taken into consideration. They are taxpayers, and this is a republican form of government—not a monarchy. I believe that the introduction of the Bible would have a tendency to sow discord among this class of people. I would not hesitate to wager a goodly sum that one-half of those who signed the petition to have the Bible read in the schools, do not read it to their children at their homes. Charity begins at home, and I believe in being consistent in all things."

George Owen was interviewed by a News Review representative, and responded:

"The action of the board was simply on the resolutions presented by the societies. I know nothing, personally, about the actions or opinions of the ministers of the various churches respecting the matter. If the citizens and taxpayers vote on the subject, and a majority of them vote in favor of the Bible in the public schools, I am with this majority, on the principle that the majority rules."

Mrs. Whitehead when seen said: "I am in favor of the Bible being read in the schools under all circumstances. When I voted against the resolutions I understood it was to be the final action of the board in the matter."

Mr. Nellis and Mr. Golding, when asked for their views, stated that they did not want to be quoted on the matter.

J. N. Taylor did not desire to be quoted, further than stating that the decision of the board is final on the resolutions, and that he did not know how the ministers of the city stood on the subject. He further stated that the board had not consulted authorities as per the statutes.

JOHN BRINDLEY DEAD.

Passed Away This Morning After a Brief Illness.

Another pioneer has passed away in the person of John Brindley, who suddenly succumbed to an attack of heart trouble this morning, after suffering two weeks with a mild attack of fever. Deceased was born in Norton, Staffordshire, England, and came to this country in 1858. He resided near Philadelphia a number of years, and finally drifted to this place in 1867.

Mr. Brindley was a member of council for one term and was twice elected justice of the peace. He was known as a man of upright qualities and never violated the confidence that was reposed in him. A loving wife and a dutiful son are left to mourn his loss. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, but will be when the son, William, who at present is attending a medical college near Philadelphia, arrives here.

THE SPRING TRADE.

A Well Known Potter Thinks It Will be Better This Year.

Speaking of the outlook for trade, a gentleman prominent in pottery circles and acquainted with the situation said: "Many of the buyers, instead of invoicing stock during January, postponed it a month, which is, in a certain measure, attributable to the present mediocre state of trade. Another potent factor which apparently has some bearing on trade is the bond issue and the outcome of it. These are some of the reasons why trade is not so busy at this season as it might be. I think that a decided impetus will follow after the spring trade comes, which will be a little later than usual this year."

WILL BANQUET.

The Sons of Veterans Will Commemorate Lincoln Day.

The Sons of Veterans will, as is their custom, commemorate Union Defender's Day on tomorrow night. The evening will be spent in a review of the life of Lincoln, in which every member of the camp will take part, and will close with a supper. This day is set apart to be observed by the constitution of the organization, and will be celebrated in a like manner by every camp in the United States. Programs are sent out every year by the commander-in-chief as an outline, and are closely followed by the various local organizations.

BUSINESS MEN MAKE NOTE.

The News Review Job Office Stands at the Head and Front.

The job department of the News Review office has now facilities for first-class work that are superior by far to those of any other job office in all this region. The presses are the finest manufactured, the pony cylinder, lately introduced, being a model of the most superb design, and pronounced perfect by the finest pressmen in the land. The foreman of the press room is an artist in his line, and for long years has taken rank with the most skillful workmen in the country. His is past master in the matter of fine color work, and thoroughly understands his business, in all its varied details. The foreman of the job department has no equal in this part of the country in his specialties, and work turned out by him has back of it an actual guarantee as to excellency and neatness of design. Possessing superior facilities of turning out work rapidly, the prices are so reasonable as to commend themselves to every manufacturer and business man in this vicinity. In the matter of half tone work, price lists, etc., patrons will find it decidedly to their advantage to have their work done at the News Review office. The average business man works on the system of true economy and, basing his business on this line of good sense, he places his orders where he can secure the best work and material for the lowest figure. Merchants and business men should also remember that it is good business sense to patronize home industries, and thus build up the city in which they reside and where their interests are centered. The News Review has just placed a first-class "Perfection G" binder in position, one of the best binding machines in the country, and is therefore prepared to do the best of work in this line.

VERY DANGEROUS.

Is What the Residents Say of Lisbon Road.

Lisbon street residents wish to call the attention of the authorities to the dangerous condition in which the upper part of the street has been left because of the recent rains. In many places where pipes have been laid the earth has sunk down, leaving cavities into which horses might stumble at night in the darkness, and possibly be the cause of a damage suit. Quite recently the street commissioner had a force of men at work filling up holes on this street, and it is desired that attention be paid to the matter again.

THERE IS ONE PERSON

Who is Delighted That the Quarantine is Lifted.

A young man of this city, whose best girl lives in Bridgeport, left for that place on Saturday to visit her. During the smallpox siege he tried quite frequently to break through the quarantine at that place, but in every instance was unsuccessful, and was forced to return home without seeing the object of his heart's desire. Now the barrier is removed, and the young man lives in a state of ecstasy in the anticipation of the undisturbed state of bliss that he will enjoy.

ANOTHER FIRE.

The Fires in the City are Still Keeping Up.

A small fire occurred at the candy store of A. T. Dean, on Fourth street, Saturday. The gas in stoves was turned on too strong and it caught fire to the woodwork. No alarm was turned in, as the employees of the still works broke open the door to the store room and put it out. There has scarcely been a day for the past week that a fire of some kind has not occurred in the city.

WILL EULOGIZE LINCOLN.

A Distinguished Southerner Will Pay Tribute to the Martyr.

Henry Watterson, the distinguished southern editor, will deliver an address on the memory of Lincoln tonight at a meeting of the Grand Army at Columblana. The noted speaker was given a great ovation in Pittsburgh a few days since, after an inspiring address on the memory of the illustrious president. A. H. Clark, of this city, will be present.

THEY STOLE SOME FISH

Three Men Get Away With 100 Pounds.

P. T. BROWN WAS THE VICTIM

Robert Kountz, Robert Maxwell and Robert Burrows were arrested for the Theft and Are Now In Jail Awaiting a Hearing.

The fish store of P. T. Brown, on West Market street, was robbed last night and Robert Maxwell, Robert Kountz and Dallas Burrows are lying in jail, accused of committing the deed. An entrance was effected through the window, and once inside the thieves thoroughly ransacked the place. No money was obtained, but a great deal of fish was secured and carried away. Their presence was detected by a passing pedestrian, who immediately notified Officers Earl and Jennings, who repaired to the spot, but found that the perpetrators had fled. A search was instituted at once and finally the officers attention was attracted to what formerly was a butcher shop on Seventh street, but is now unoccupied. The officers gained admittance to the house and caught Maxwell, Kountz and Burrows in the act of cooking some of the stolen fish. All three were arrested and placed behind the bars. This morning Mr. Brown appeared and swore out a charge against Maxwell. The prisoners have not been arraigned yet, but will probably have a hearing tomorrow. This is the second time within the last month that the place has been robbed.

AN OLD VETERAN

Has Something to Say About General Gordon's Lecture.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—Having read your eulogy on the lecture of J. B. Gordon on "The Last Days of the Confederacy," will you allow a word from one who did not hear the "lecture," but who has seen J. B. Gordon under different circumstances? It has no doubt been pleasant for many of your readers to hear the eloquent "lecture" of the "reconstructed rebel," but you and they will please bear in mind that the lecturer was a leader of the hosts who were battling against the Union and old flag, whose influence was great, until the last moment, when the Union troops under General Grant compelled the surrender and granted such generous terms as to call the attention of the whole world to the magnanimity of our government. The writer was a Union soldier from 1861 to 1865, suffering all the hardships and privations of the soldier, on the march, in camp, on the picket line and in deadly battle, having not only many comrades, but a brother, killed at his side in one of the many terrible and bloody conflicts of the war, "Chickamauga." The question has been asked, "How is it that more of the old soldiers and Grand Army were not at the lecture?" The dying eyes and mute lips of our comrades and brothers in arms, and the fact that it was the regular meeting night of the Grand Army, should be sufficient answer to all such questions. One meeting with our old comrades of the Union army is not to be compared with a thousand lectures by one of the fighting leaders of the rebellion. We may forgive, but we can never forget. W. H. S.

TO RAISE FUNDS.

The D. of L. and the Jr. O. U. A. M. Will Hold Socials.

The Daughters of Liberty and the Junior Order United American Mechanics held a union meeting on Saturday evening for the purpose of devising some way to raise funds for the national home, to be erected at Tiffin by these patriotic orders. It was decided to give a series of socials, which will no doubt meet with the approval and patronage of the citizens of this city. Every branch of the organization in the United States is interested in this work, and are raising money for the home.

HAVE PAID UP.

The Insurance Company Thinks Lenz is Dead.

The insurance company in which Frank Lenz, the murdered wheelman, carried his policy, have at last accepted the evidence of his death, and has paid into the hands of his mother, who resides in Lawrenceville, the sum of $3,000, as well as all assessments she has paid on the policy since May, 1894, the time when he was killed. The action of the company was decided by voluminous proofs received from Armenia by T. P. Langshans, a warm friend of Lenz.

Mr. John Mountford, of Second street, is seriously ill, confined to his room.

A loving wife and a dutiful son are left to mourn his loss. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, but will be when the son, William, who at present is attending a medical college near Philadelphia, arrives here.

THE SPRING TRADE.

A Well Known Potter Thinks it Will be Better This Year.

Speaking of the outlook for trade, a gentleman prominent in pottery circles and acquainted with the situation said: "Many of the buyers, instead of invoicing stock during January, postponed it a month, which is, in a certain measure, attributable to the present mediocre state of trade. Another potent factor which apparently has some bearing on trade is the bond issue and the outcome of it. These are some of the reasons why trade is not so busy at this season as it might be. I think that a decided impetus will follow after the spring trade comes, which will be a little later than usual this year."

WILL BANQUET.

The Sons of Veterans Will Commemorate Lincoln Day.

The Sons of Veterans will, as is their custom, commemorate Union Defender's Day on tomorrow night. The evening will be spent in a review of the life of Lincoln, in which every member of the camp will take part, and will close with a supper. This day is set apart to be observed by the constitution of the organization, and will be celebrated in a like manner by every camp in the United States. Programs are sent out every year by the commander-in-chief as an outline, and are closely followed by the various local organizations.

BUSINESS MEN MAKE NOTE.

The News Review Job Office Stands at the Head and Front.

The job department of the News Review office has now facilities for first-class work that are superior by far to those of any other job office in all this region. The presses are the finest manufactured, the pony cylinder, lately introduced, being a model of the most superb design, and pronounced perfect by the finest pressmen in the land. The foreman of the press room is an artist in his line, and for long years has taken rank with the most skillful workmen in the country. His is past master in the matter of fine color work, and thoroughly understands his business, in all its varied details. The foreman of the job department has no equal in this part of the country in his specialties, and work turned out by him has back of it an actual guarantee as to excellency and neatness of design. Possessing superior facilities of turning out work rapidly, the prices are so reasonable as to commend themselves to every manufacturer and business man in this vicinity. In the matter of half tone work, price lists, etc., patrons will find it decidedly to their advantage to have their work done at the News Review office. The average business man works on the system of true economy and, basing his business on this line of good sense, he places his orders where he can secure the best work and material for the lowest figure. Merchants and business men should also remember that it is good business sense to patronize home industries, and thus build up the city in which they reside and where their interests are centered. The News Review has just placed a first-class "Perfection G" binder in position, one of the best binding machines in the country, and is therefore prepared to do the best of work in this line.

VERY DANGEROUS.

Is What the Residents Say of Lisbon Road.

Lisbon street residents wish to call the attention of the authorities to the dangerous condition in which the upper part of the street has been left because of the recent rains. In many places where pipes have been laid the earth has sunk down, leaving cavities into which horses might stumble at night in the darkness, and possibly be the cause of a damage suit. Quite recently the street commissioner had a force of men at work filling up holes on this street, and it is desired that attention be paid to the matter again.

THERE IS ONE PERSON

Who is Delighted That the Quarantine is Lifted.

A young man of this city, whose best girl lives in Bridgeport, left for that place on Saturday to visit her. During the smallpox siege he tried quite frequently to break through the quarantine at that place, but in every instance was unsuccessful, and was forced to return home without seeing the object of his heart's desire. Now the barrier is removed, and the young man lives in a state of ecstasy in the anticipation of the undisturbed state of bliss that he will enjoy.

ANOTHER FIRE.

The Fires in the City are Still Keeping Up.

A small fire occurred at the candy store of A. T. Dean, on Fourth street, Saturday. The gas in stoves was turned on too strong and it caught fire to the woodwork. No alarm was turned in, as the employees of the still works broke open the door to the store room and put it out. There has scarcely been a day for the past week that a fire of some kind has not occurred in the city.

WILL EULOGIZE LINCOLN.

A Distinguished Southerner Will Pay Tribute to the Martyr.

Henry Watterson, the distinguished southern editor, will deliver an address on the memory of Lincoln tonight at a meeting of the Grand Army at Columbiana. The noted speaker was given a great ovation in Pittsburgh a few days since, after an inspiring address on the memory of the illustrious president. A. H. Clark, of this city, will be present.

THEY STOLE SOME FISH

Three Men Get Away With 100 Pounds.

P. T. BROWN WAS THE VICTIM

Robert Kountz, Robert Maxwell and Robert Burrows Were Arrested For the Theft and Are Now in Jail Awaiting a Hearing.

The fish store of P. T. Brown, on West Market street, was robbed last night and Robert Maxwell, Robert Kountz and Dallas Burrows are lying in jail, accused of committing the deed. An entrance was effected through the window, and once inside the thieves thoroughly ransacked the place. No money was obtained, but a great deal of fish was secured and carried away. Their presence was detected by a passing pedestrian, who immediately notified Officers Earl and Jennings, who repaired to the spot, but found that the perpetrators had fled. A search was instituted at once and finally the officers attention was attracted to what formerly was a butcher shop on Seventh street, but is now unoccupied. The officers gained admittance to the house and caught Maxwell, Kountz and Burrows in the act of cooking some of the stolen fish. All three were arrested and placed behind the bars. This morning Mr. Brown appeared and swore out a charge against Maxwell. The prisoners have not been arraigned yet, but will probably have a hearing tomorrow. This is the second time within the last month that the place has been robbed.

Has Something to Say About General Gordon's Lecture.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—Having read your eulogy on the lecture of J. B. Gordon on "The Last Days of the Confederacy," will you allow a word from one who did not hear the "lecture," but who has seen J. B. Gordon under different circumstances? It has no doubt been pleasant for many of your readers to hear the eloquent "lecture" of the "reconstructed rebel," but you and they will please bear in mind that the lecturer was a leader of the hosts who were battling against the Union and old flag, whose influence was great, until the last moment, when the Union troops under General Grant compelled the surrender and granted such generous terms as to call the attention of the whole world to the magnanimity of our government. The writer was a Union soldier from 1861 to 1865, suffering all the hardships and privations of the soldier, on the march, in camp, on the picket line and in deadly battle, having not only many comrades, but a brother, killed at his side in one of the many terrible and bloody conflicts of the war, "Chickamauga." The question has been asked, "How is it that more of the old soldiers and Grand Army were not at the lecture?" The dying eyes and mute lips of our comrades and brothers in arms, and the fact that it was the regular meeting night of the Grand Army, should be sufficient answer to all such questions. One meeting with our old comrades of the Union army is not to be compared with a thousand lectures by one of the fighting leaders of the rebellion. We may forgive, but we can never forget. W. H. S.

TO RAISE FUNDS.

The D. of L. and the Jr., O. U. A. M. Will Hold Socials.

The Daughters of Liberty and the Junior Order United American Mechanics held a union meeting on Saturday evening for the purpose of devising some way to raise funds for the national home, to be erected at Tiffin by these patriotic orders. It was decided to give a series of socials, which will no doubt meet with the approval and patronage of the citizens of this city. Every branch of the organization in the United States is interested in this work, and are raising money for the home.

HAVE PAID UP.

The Insurance Company Thinks Lenz is Dead.

The insurance company in which Frank Lenz, the murdered wheelman, carried his policy, have at last accepted the evidence of his death, and has paid into the hands of his mother, who resides in Lawrenceville, the sum of $3,000, as well as all assessments she has paid on the policy since May, 1894, the time when he was killed. The action of the company was decided by voluminous proofs received from Armenia by T. P. Langstons, a warm friend of Lenz.

Mr. John Mountford, of Second street, is seriously ill, confined to his room.

DEBATE WILL CLOSE TODAY.

Dingley's Motion to Non-Concur in the Silver Bond Bill Will Pass.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The general debate on the free coinage substitute for the bond bill, which was discussed day and night for four days in the house last week, will close today. It is the general expectation that a vote will be reached some time tomorrow. As to the result there is no sort of doubt. Mr. Dingley's motion to non-concur and insist on the house bill will carry by a vast majority, probably exceeding 100 if there is a full house. It is not believed that Mr. Crisp's motion to concur in the free coinage substitute will muster over 100 votes.

If an opportunity is given to concur in the last three sections of the bill is to redeem greenbacks in gold or silver at the option of the government to coin the seigniorage and to retire national bank notes of a less denomination than $10 the vote may close, but it is thought that parliamentary manipulation will prevent votes except on the main propositions.

The resolution to censure Mr. Bayard can be presented at any time during the week, but it may be withheld until the pending appropriation bills, the agricultural, army and District of Columbia are out of the way.

TRAITOROUS SPANISH OFFICERS.

Getting Rich by Selling Guns to the Cuban Rebels.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The Cuban insurgents have about 30,000 rifles of different patterns. Of this number less than 2,000 have been landed by the various expeditions.

At the beginning of the revolution a year ago, a "council of seven" was selected from among the influential citizens of Havana to represent the New York junta and to further the cause of independence in every possible way, especially in the purchase of arms and ammunition. Through the efforts of this council and similar ones in other cities of the island, nine-tenths of all the arms and ammunition have been obtained. Most of the war supplies have been obtained from Spanish officials, many of whom, as in the last war, have accumulated fortunes.

New York Republican Convention.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The Republican state central committee has decided upon March 24 as the date for the state convention and this city as the place. The committee also recognized the right of the county committee to pass upon the question of the validity of the organization's enrollment, and referred to that committee the protest of the committee of 500. The presidential candidacy of Governor Morion was endorsed by resolution.

Two Children Killed.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 10.—Two children have been instantly killed and one young man seriously injured by falling in the ruins of a fire in a cottage on Fort Hamilton avenue. The victims are Minnie Specht, 9 years old, and Harry Botzen, 7 years old, both killed, and Edward Hill, 18 years old, fracture of the thigh, severe scalp wounds and contusions of the body.

Populists Stick to Their Program.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The Populist senators have held a caucus today and concluded to stand by their former decision to nominate candidates of their own for the offices of secretary and sergeant-at-arms of the senate when the election of these officers is undertaken in accordance with the Republican programme.

AMERICAN TO BE EDITOR.

Astor Fires an Englishman For His Claims on the United States.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The Times this morning prints Mr. Henry J. C. Cust's explanation of his dismissal from the position of editor of The Pall Mall Gazette by William Waldorf Astor.

Mr. Astor gives as his reasons for asking him to resign, the constant sneers and disparaging comments upon America printed in The Pall Mall Gazette, and the habitual disregard of Mr. Astor's instructions by the editor. Mr. Astor wrote to Mr. Cust on February 3 as follows:

"We are suddenly confronted with a dangerous controversy between England and the United States in which I am deeply interested. I cannot longer be responsible for the utterances of a paper over which I exercise only a nominal control. I therefore regret that I am constrained to ask you to resign."

The Chronicle says Mr. Astor intends to secure an American editor for the paper.

Grover Cleveland Scouts.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Feb. 10.—General Barrios has petitioned President Crespo to allow him to organize two battalions of volunteer scouts composed of young men capable of standing fatigue, the enlistments to take place on Sundays in Washington plaza, and to name the soldiers Grover Cleveland scouts.

Shea Will Die Tomorrow.

ALBANY, Feb. 10.—Galen R. Hitt of counsel for "Bat" Shea, the murderer of Robert Ross at Troy, has announced that there will be no further effort in Shea's behalf before the courts. It is therefore made almost certain that Shea will be executed tomorrow.

Kruger Will Visit London.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—President Kruger of the Transvaal has accepted the invitation extended to him by Colonial Secretary Chamberlain to come to England, accompanied by some members of the Transvaal government.

Miles of Land Under Water.

CLARKES, Neb., Feb. 10.—An extensive ice gorge in the Platte river here has caused a dangerous overflow. The bottom lands are under water for miles.

A Smallpox Case.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Feb. 10.—The discovery of a bad case of smallpox in an Italian boarding house on Green street is announced.

PITH OF THE NEWS.

London courts have decided to extradite Arton, the Panama canal lobbyist.

During the past 24 hours another rise of six feet has come down the Brazos river, Texas, playing havoc.

Louis Allard died at his home in Cohoes, N. Y., aged 104 years. He worked at his trade up to five years ago.

Bank robbers made a bold raid on the State National bank at Savannah, Mo. They beat the night watchman into insensibility.

The Norwegian League of Agriculturists, composed of members of the storthing, has passed a resolution in favor of imposing an import duty on all agricultural products except corn.

The Commercial Agricultural association of Brussels has presented a petition to the Belgian parliament in favor of bimetallicism, and begging the government to bring the matter to the notice of foreign governments.

Ex-Governor William Guy, A. C. Burris and Holmes Calberts have been selected by the Chickasaw legislature to go to Washington to protest to congress against any change in the present form of territorial government.

Chancellor Hohenlohe, in the German reichstag stated that he saw no means of raising the price of silver except by international agreement, and the government, he added, has no present intention of proposing an international conference on the subject.

The need of relief in the disturbed region of Turkey is illustrated by a letter from Arabkir, received in Boston, in which it is said: "The refugees wander about from morning till evening begging, and are obliged to return hungry and almost dead to sleep on the stones."

Pugs Ordered to Be Ready at a Moment's Notice.

BAT MASTERSON AND 100 THUGS

Will Be Given Charge of the Train—Big Mill Likely to Occur Before Friday.

Offer From London—El Paso Full of Thieves and Toughs.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 10.—Bob Fitzsimmons and Peter Maher will meet in the ring in spite of official action, and there is strong probability that several of the other carnival events will take place. Dan Stewart so declares, and the preparations are making on as though no bar had been placed on the events.

The only effect of the action at Washington has been to make the promoter and his associates more secretive as to their plans. Much of the paraphernalia for the mills has been taken from this city. Great care was taken to keep the matter quiet. The material presumably went across the border into Mexico at a point north of here.

Adjutant General Mahoy of Texas has galloped into the city at the head of a company of 12 Texas rangers. Their arrival caused a stir until it became known that the object of their visit was to see the fights did not take place on Texas soil.

All the fighters have been notified to continue work, as they may be called upon at any time to enter the ring. At a meeting of Dan Stuart and his lieutenants it was decided that on the day of the big fight Bat Masterston will be given charge of the train and will have 100 men under his orders.

It is understood that Maher is to be here today. This circumstance helps the persistent rumor that the big fight will take place before Friday.

Martin Julian has received a cablegram from the National Sporting club, London, offering $5,000 for a 20-round go between Fitzsimmons and Maher if the contest is declared off.

Julian seemed very much out of sorts and in view of the message from London he will evidently not be broken-hearted if the contest is prevented and the big fight driven from this hemisphere to London.

This city is at present in the hands of the boldest gang of toughs ever gotten together in any one spot on earth, and holdups and rollovers are so common here as to attract hardly any attention.

A Chihuahua (Mexico) special says: Governor Ahualada of the state of Chihuahua has taken decisive steps toward preventing the proposed pugilistic carnival taking place within the confines of this state. He has issued orders for 1,000 troops to proceed to the border and patrol the city of Juarez and adjacent territory during the days on which the fights are scheduled to occur. The governor has also addressed a letter to the principals and managers of the fights, informing them that they will positively not be allowed to trespass upon Mexican soil if any pugilistic encounters are contemplated.

FIFTEEN PERSONS INJURED.

A Collision Between Two Trains Near Hannibal, Mo.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Feb. 10.—Fifteen persons were more or less seriously hurt and one cannot recover, as the result of a collision between an eastbound Wash-bash stock train and a St. Louis, Keokuk and Northwestern passenger train coming south. The collision occurred near a tunnel one mile north of this city.

The stock train, which had just emerged from the tunnel, struck the passenger train, crushing in the side of the ladies' coach and throwing it over an embankment, almost into the Mississippi river. There were 15 passengers in the coach, and that none were killed, is a miracle. All were more or less bruised.

Found Guilty of Robbery.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 10.—Peter Louter, who with Lizzie Michaels robbed James Smith, an old farmer, of $300 here some time ago, has been found guilty and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. The Michaels girl, with six others, was taken to Moundsville today.

Man and Woman Drowned.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Peter L. Atkins, proprietor of a wagon repair shop in this city and Maud Kelly, aged 23, have been drowned while driving. They crossed Wallkill river at Hopkins bridge and in the darkness Atkins drove off the road into the flooded meadow.

Editor Dunlop Sentenced.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Joseph R. Dunlop, proprietor of the Chicago Dispatch, has been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and a fine of $2,000 for circulating through the mails indecent matter contained in the daily issues of his newspaper.

Schlatter on the Chain Gang.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—A man who has every appearance of Schlatter, the divine healer, who created such a sensation in Colorado, is believed to be working in the chain gang in this city. He was sent from Redlands as a vagrant.

The L. A. W. Convention.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 10.—The hotels are rapidly filling with delegates to the annual national convention of the League of American Wheelmen, which begins in this city today and will last until Wednesday.

More Troops Demanded.

ROME, Feb. 10.—It is stated that General Baratieri has asked for the immediate dispatch of the 12 battalions of infantry, six mounted batteries and 2,500 mules to Erythraea, in Abyssinia.

Accused of Embezzlement.

AUSTIN, Feb. 10.—Richard Norton has been arrested here on a dispatch from Chicago on the charge of embezzling $1,000 from the Fowler Bicycle company.

General Wallace's Aunt Dead.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—Miss Helen M. Arion, an aunt of General Lew Wallace, is dead.

DEBATE WILL CLOSE TODAY.

Dingley's Motion to Non-Concur in the Silver Bond Bill Will Pass.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The general debate on the free coinage substitute for the bond bill, which was discussed day and night for four days in the house last week, will close today. It is the general expectation that a vote will be reached some time tomorrow. As to the result there is no sort of doubt. Mr.
Dingley's motion to non-concur and insist on the house bill will carry by a vast majority, probably exceeding 100 if there is a full house. It is not believed that Mr. Crisp's motion to concur in the free coinage substitute will muster over 100 votes.

If an opportunity is given to concur in the last three sections of the bill is to redeem greenbacks in gold or silver at the option of the government to coin the silver and to retire national bank notes of a less denomination than $10 the vote may close, but it is thought that parliamentary manipulation will prevent votes except on the main propositions.

The resolution to censure Mr. Bayard can be presented at any time during the week, but it may be withheld until the pending appropriation bills, the agricultural, army and District of Columbia are out of the way.

TRAITOROUS SPANISH OFFICERS.

Getting Rich by Selling Guns to the Cuban Rebels.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The Cuban insurgents have about 30,000 rifles of different patterns. Of this number less than 2,000 have been landed by the various expeditions.

At the beginning of the revolution a year ago, a "council of seven" was selected from among the influential citizens of Havana to represent the New York junta and to further the cause of independence in every possible way, especially in the purchase of arms and ammunition. Through the efforts of this council and similar ones in other cities of the island, nine-tenths of all the arms and ammunition have been obtained. Most of the war supplies have been obtained from Spanish officers, many of whom, as in the last war, have accumulated fortunes.

New York Republican Convention.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The Republican state central committee has decided upon March 24 as the date for the state of the county committee to pass upon the question of the validity of the city organization's enrollment, and referred to that committee the protest of the committee of 500. The presidential candidate of Governor Morton was endorsed by resolution.

BAT MASTERSON AND 100 THUGS

Will Be Given Charge of the Train—Big Mill Likely to Occur Before Friday.
Offer From London—El Paso Full of Thieves and Toughs.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 10.—Bob Fitzsimmons and Peter Maher will meet in the ring in spite of official action, and there is strong probability that several of the other carnival events will take place. Dan Stewart so declares, and the preparations are making on as though no bar had been placed on the events.

The only effect of the action at Washington has been to make the promoter and his associates more secretive as to their plans. Much of the paraphernalia for the mills has been taken from this city. Great care was taken to keep the matter quiet. The material presumably went across the border into Mexico at a point north of here.

Adjutant General Mabey of Texas has galloped into the city at the head of a company of 12 Texas rangers. Their arrival caused a stir until it became known that the object of their visit was to see the fight did not take place on Texas soil.

All the fighters have been notified to continue work, as they may be called upon at any time to enter the ring. At a meeting of Dan Stuart and his lieutenants it was decided that on the day of the big fight Bat Masterston will be given charge of the train and will have 100 men under his orders.

It is understood that Maher is to be here today. This circumstance helps the persistent rumor that the big fight will take place before Friday.

Martin Julian has received a cablegram from the National Sporting club, London, offering £5,000 for a 20-round go between Fitzsimmons and Maher if the contest is declared off.

Julian seemed very much out of sorts and in view of the message from London he will evidently not be broken-hearted if the contest is prevented and the big fight driven from this hemisphere to London.

This city is at present in the hands of the boldest gang of toughs ever gotten together in any one spot on earth, and holdups and rollovers are so common here as to attract hardly any attention.

A Chihuahua (Mexico) special says:
Governor Ahualada of the state of Chihuahua has taken decisive steps toward preventing the proposed pugilistic carnival taking place within the confines of this state. He has issued orders for 1,000 troops to proceed to the border and patrol the city of Juarez and adjacent territory during the days on which the fights are scheduled to occur. The governor has also addressed a letter to the principals and managers of the fights, informing them that they will positively not be allowed to trespass upon Mexican soil if any pugilistic encounters are contemplated.

FIFTEEN PERSONS INJURED.

A Collision Between Two Trains Near Hannibal, Mo.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Feb. 10.—Fifteen persons were more or less seriously hurt and one cannot recover, as the result of a collision between an eastbound Wash-bash stock train and a St. Louis, Keokuk and Northwestern passenger train coming south. The collision occurred near a tunnel one mile north of this city.

The stock train, which had just emerged from the tunnel, struck the passenger train, crashing in the side of the ladies' coach and throwing it over an embankment, almost into the Mississippi river. There were 15 passengers in the coach, and that none were killed, is a miracle. All were more or less bruised.

HEAD STILL MISSING,

But Detectives Find Poor Pearl Bryan's Hat.

MISSING LINKS OF EVIDENCE.

The Whereabouts of the Girl the Night Before the Murder a Mystery—Kentucky Courts Will Have Jurisdiction, A Girl Friend's Statement.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 10.—The detectives are still busily hunting the missing links in the chain of circumstances by which the story of the murder of Pearl Bryan is to be shaped into perfect evidence. All search for the head has been fruitless, though made by hundreds of volunteers along with detectives. Detectives Crim and Witte have found the girl's hat. In it was a bloody handkerchief and a big stone to keep it from blowing away. It was found in an angle between the Port Thomas electric railway and the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad near their intersection southeast of Newport, Ky.

The mystery of the whereabouts of the girl on Thursday night, January 30, the night before the murder remains unsolved. From her arrival here on Monday, January 27, up to 11 o'clock Thursday forenoon her movements have been traced. Then comes a hiatus until 7 o'clock Friday evening when she was last seen alive. This was at Dave Wallingford's saloon, where she and Jackson were seen and she drank a glass of mineral water. The rest of the story has been told by the girl's friends in which detectives are now trying to fill.

The finding of the hat weakens the theory that a cab was used to take the murderers and their victim to Fort Thomas. It looks very much as if they went by the electric railway to Fort Thomas, committed the deed, and then walked back to the city and finding this hat too conspicuous to be hidden left it where it would be most likely to be observed.

Jackson's razor, found in Wallingford's trunk, has been turned over to the police. Medical experts say the girl's head was cut with some very sharp instrument—a razor or a surgeon's knife. There are stains on the razor, but they are inconspicuous.

To your correspondent both Walling and Jackson have repeated their accusations of each other. Jackson was anxious to know the state of public sentiment in regard to them, but would say nothing more than he has already said. Meantime, each day brings some new circumstantial revelation. Before another week the whole story will doubtless come out. There is scarcely a doubt that Kentucky will have jurisdiction of the case in the courts.

Rev. D. M. Wood and his son will have returned to this city from Greenville, Ind. They deny that an attempt was made to lynch Will Wood.

The girl's body has been taken home. Saturday, before it was taken away to Jackson and Walling were taken in to view the body. Neither lost his nerve and both denied the murder and charged it upon the other.

A sister of the dead girl pleaded with them to tell where they had hid the head, but both, without flinching, denied all knowledge of its whereabouts.

PEARL BRYAN'S THREAT.

Said She Would Die Near Jackson So He Would Hang.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 10.—Lulu May Hollingsworth, one of Pearl Bryan's girl friends here, says she met Pearl Bryan at the Union depot, in this city, on her way to Cincinnati.

She said she bought for Pearl Bryan three kinds of drugs here and instructed her to buy another drug after she reached Cincinnati, but to be careful of it, as it was deadly poison and would kill her if not used correctly. Miss Hollingsworth says that Pearl Bryan then says to her: "I will go to Cincinnati and take the stuff, and if it kills me I will be near Jackson and he will have to swing for it."

Miss Hollingsworth further says that Pearl was very bitter toward Jackson who was responsible for her condition. Then Miss Hollingsworth said: "She died by her own hand. I have a theory. Pearl took the medicine herself. She was in Jackson's room at the time. It had a different effect from what she expected and she grew so bad that Jackson saw she was going to die. He knew it would never do to have her in the house, so he secured a hack, assisted by Walling, took her across the river. She may have died on the way or may have been dead before they got her out of the room, and their object in taking her there was to hide the crime. When near Fort Thomas they cut off her head and disposed of it to avoid identification. See if it don't come out that way."

BUSHNELL GUEST OF HONOR.

The Ohio Society in New York Gives a Brilliant Banquet.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The tenth annual dinner of the Ohio Society of New York, which took place at Delmonico's Saturday night, was a notable event in many ways. The occasion served also to mark the anniversary of General Sherman's birthday.

Covers for 150 were laid. Those at the speakers' table included Governor Bushnell of Ohio, Mayor Robert E. McKisson of Cleveland, Bishop Potter, Joseph H. Choate, General Wagner Swayne, Adjutant General H. A. Axline, Mayor Strong, who is a loyal Ohioan and in whose honor last year's dinner was given, contented himself with a seat in the body of the banquet hall.

General Henry L. Burnett, president of the society, acted as toastmaster. He introduced Governor Bushnell of Ohio as the guest of honor, who spoke chiefly of the glory and valor of the sons of the Buckeye state and mentioned by name Sherman, Sheridan, Garfield and Grant. His reference to Major McKinley evoked the most prolonged applause of the evening. Governor Bushnell also spoke in high terms of Senator Foraker.

Other speakers were James H. Hoyt, Mayor McKisson, ex-Governor Charles Foster and Mayor Strong. Letters of regret were received from ex-Governor James E. Campbell, Attorney General Harmon, ex-President Harrison, Senator Foraker, Senator Allison, Senator Hoar of Massachusetts and others.

CAN'T PUSH VENEZUELA

No Forcing by England Will Be Allowed by Us.

GOOD FROM URUAN INCIDENT

Expected to Arise by Bringing About a Resumption of Diplomatic Relations Between the Estranged Countries—A London Rumor That Proves Untrue.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Careful inquiry fails to substantiate the statement cabled from London to the effect that Secretary Olney had given the Venezuelan minister here to understand that the United States government will not intervene to prevent Great Britain from exacting an indemnity from Venezuela for the arrest of British officers at Uruan, and there is good ground for the belief that the secretary has by no means committed himself in this fashion to what is regarded here as an admission, in advance of the judicial determination to be reached through the Venezuelan boundary commission, that the territory of the Uruan belongs to Great Britain.

It is believed, however, that the Uruan incident may really serve a peaceful and commendable purpose in forming the basis for a renewal of the diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Venezuela, broken off more than 10 years ago. If these relations are restored, as they might easily be through the response by one party to the representations made by the other, even upon such a subject as the Uruan affair, it is hoped that the way will be open to an adjustment of the boundary dispute by negotiations directly between the two parties concerned. So far as the Uruan affair may be used for this purpose, the United States is not likely to interfere with any presentation by Great Britain, but if it is intended to force upon Venezuela an obnoxious settlement of the boundary dispute by its means a decided objection will be entered.

CARNEGIE A WITNESS.

He and Harton Discourage the Government's Plan to Expropriate the Carnegie Steel Works.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The senate committee on naval affairs Saturday examined ex-Secretary Tracey on the armor plate contracts. Mr. Tracey said that he knew of no irregularities in these matters while he was secretary. He also said that Commander Folger's employment by the Carnegie company did not occur while he (Tracey) was secretary.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie of the Carnegie company and Mr. John W. Harton of the Bethlehem iron works were also before the committee. The questions asked of them were directed especially at securing information on the subject of the cost of making armor, with a view of acting upon the Smith bill for the establishment of an armor plate factory at Washington. They explained the low rate at which foreign contracts had been taken by saying that this had been done for the purpose of extending business. These gentlemen placed the cost of a plant at $4,000,000, while the Smith bill only only appropriates $2,000,000. They also said that the profits were small.

THE QUAY RESOLUTION.

Vote on It Expected to Be Exciting and Close.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The first business of importance before the senate this week probably will be the vote on Senator Quay's resolution for the recommitment of the revenue tariff bill to the committee on finance.

The interest in the Olney resolution is enhanced by the knowledge that the vote will be very close. The Republicans expect to poll their full vote of 44 members for recommitment, and they are not without hope that they may get a vote or two from the Democratic side. This claim is, however, vigorously contested by the Democrats when they say they will have a full Democratic and Populist vote against this proposition. If they succeed in defeating the resolution the effect will be to place the silver substitute for the tariff bill before the senate, but it is expected that it will be taken up immediately. The senators incline to the belief that in no event can the tariff-silver bill be disposed of within less than a month's time.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The secretary of the treasury has made public the names of the successful bidders for the new loan, together with the amount subscribed for each, and the rate offered per $100, with interest from Feb. 1. The amount awarded at each rate has not yet been ascertained.

The successful bidders are, with few exceptions, those whose names were printed in these dispatches Thursday, as bidding above $110,657, the price offered by the Morgan syndicate.

The father refuses to allow her to come home until she gives him up, which the daughter firmly avers she will not do. It is said that the young couple will get married soon.

The five-hour bicycle race at the rink Saturday night was well attended. The contestants had many falls, but none was serious enough to have them withdraw from the race before it was finished. Bott was the winner, with 88 miles and 7 laps; Holtzman second, with 86 miles and 11 laps; Hale third, with 76 miles and 4 laps; and King fourth, with 27 miles and 8 laps. King dropped out before the finish of the race and Jewell did not start.

HEAD STILL MISSING,

But Detectives Find Poor Pearl Bryan's Hat.

MISSING LINKS OF EVIDENCE.

The Whereabouts of the Girl the Night Before the Murder a Mystery—Kentucky Courts Will Have Jurisdiction. A Girl Friend's Statement.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 10.—The detectives are still busily hunting the missing links in the chain of circumstances by which the story of the murder of Pearl Bryan is to be shaped into perfect evidence. All search for the head has been fruitless, though made by hundreds of volunteers along with detectives. Detectives Crim and Witte have found the girl's hat. In it was a bloody handkerchief and a big stone to keep it from blowing away. It was found in an angle between the Fort Thomas electric railway and the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad near their intersection southeast of Newport, Ky.

The mystery of the whereabouts of the girl on Thursday night, January 30, the night before the murder remains unsolved. From her arrival here on Monday, January 27, up to 11 o'clock Thursday forenoon her movements have been traced. Then comes a hiatus until 7 o'clock Friday evening when she was last seen alive. This was at Dave Wallingford's saloon, where she and Jackson were seen and she drank a glass of mineral water. The rest of the story has been told by certain gaps in it which detectives are now trying to fill. The finding of the hat weakens the theory that a cab was used to take the murderers and their victim to Fort Thomas. It looks very much as if they went by the electric railway to Fort Thomas, committed the deed, and then walked back to the city and finding this hat too conspicuous to be hidden left it where it would be most likely to be unobserved.

Jackson's razor, found in Wallingford's trunk, has been turned over to the police. Medical experts say the girl's head was cut off with some very sharp instrument—a razor or a surgeon's knife. There are stains on the razor, but they are inconspicuous.

The two correspondents both Walling and Jackson have repeated their accusations of each other. Jackson was anxious to know the state of public sentiment in regard to them, but would say nothing more than he has already said. Meantime, each day brings some new circumstantial revelation. Before another week the whole story will doubtless come out. There is scarcely a doubt that Kentucky will have jurisdiction of the case in the courts.

Rev. D. M. Wood and his son Will have returned to this city from Greencastle, Ind. They deny that an attempt was made to lynch Will Wood. The girl's body has been taken home Saturday, before it was taken away Jackson and Walling were taken in to view the body. Neither lost his nerve and both denied the murder and charged it upon the other.

A sister of the dead girl plead with them to tell where they had hid the head, but both, without flinching, denied all knowledge of its whereabouts.

PEARL BRYAN'S THREAT.

Said She Would Die Near Jackson So He Would Hang.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 10.—Lulu May Hollingsworth, one of Pearl Bryan's girl friends here, says she met Pearl Bryan at the Union depot, in this city, on her way to Cincinnati.

She said she bought for Pearl Bryan three kinds of drugs and instructed her to buy another drug after she reached Cincinnati, but to be careful of it, as it was deadly poison and would kill her if not used correctly. Miss Hollingsworth says that Pearl Bryan then says to her: "I will go to Cincinnati and take the stuff, and if it kills me I will be near Jackson and he will have to swing for it."

Miss Hollingsworth further says that Pearl was very bitter toward Jackson who was responsible for her condition. Then Miss Hollingsworth said: "She died by her own hand. I have a theory. Pearl took the medicine herself. She was in Jackson's room at the time she had a different effect from what she expected and she grew so bad that Jackson saw she was going to die. He knew it would never do to have her die in the house, so he secured a hack, assisted by Walling, took her across the river. She may have died on the way or may have been dead before they got her out of the room, and their object in taking her there was to hide the crime. When near Fort Thomas they cut off her head and disposed of it to avoid identification. See if it don't come out that way."

He introduced Governor Bushnell of Ohio as the guest of honor, who spoke chiefly of the glory and valor of the sons of the Buckeye state and mentioned by name Sherman, Sheridan, Garfield and Grant. CAN'T PUSH VENEZUELA

No Forcing by England Will Be Allowed by Us.

GOOD FROM URUAN INCIDENT

Expected to Arise by Bringing About a Resumption of Diplomatic Relations Between the Estranged Countries—A London Rumor That Proves Untrue.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Careful inquiry fails to substantiate the statement cabled from London to the effect that Secretary Olney had given the Venezuelan minister here to understand that the United States government will not intervene to prevent Great Britain from exacting an indemnity from Venezuela for the arrest of British officers at Uruan, and there is good ground for the belief that the secretary has by no means committed himself in this fashion to what is regarded here as an admission, in advance of the judicial determination to be reached through the Venezuelan boundary commission, that the territory of the Uruan belongs to Great Britain.

It is believed, however, that the Uruan incident may really serve a peaceful and commendable purpose in forming the basis for a renewal of the diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Venezuela, broken off more than 10 years ago. If these relations are restored, as they might easily be through the response by one party to the representations made by the other, even upon such a subject as the Uruan affair, it is hoped that the way will be open to an adjustment of the boundary dispute by negotiations directly between the two parties concerned. So far as the Uruan affair may be used for this purpose, the United States is not likely to interfere with any presentation by Great Britain, but if it is intended to force upon Venezuela an obnoxious settlement of the boundary dispute by its means a decided objection will be entered.

CARNEGIE A WITNESS.

He and Harton Discourage the Government Armor Plant Scheme.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The senate committee on naval affairs Saturday examined ex-Secretary Tracey on the armor plate contracts. Mr. Tracey said that he knew of no irregularities in these matters while he was secretary. He also said that Commander Folger's employment by the Carnegie company did not occur while he (Tracey) was secretary.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie of the Carnegie company and Mr. John W. Harton of the Bethlehem iron works were also before the committee. The questions asked of them were directed especially at securing information on the subject of the cost of making armor, with a view of acting upon the Smith bill for the establishment of an armor plate factory at Washington. They explained the low rate at which foreign contracts had been taken by saying that this had been done for the purpose of extending business. These gentlemen placed the cost of a plant at $4,000,000, while the Smith bill only only appropriates $2,000,000. They also said that the profits were small.

THE QUAY RESOLUTION.

Vote on It Expected to Be Exciting and Close.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The first business of importance before the senate this week probably will be the vote on Senator Quay's resolution for the recommitment of the revenue tariff bill to the committee on finance.

The interest in the Olney resolution is enhanced by the knowledge that the vote will be very close. The Republicans expect to poll their full vote of 44 members for recommitment, and they are not without hope that they may get a vote or two from the Democratic side. This claim is, however, vigorously contested by the Democrats when they say they will have a full Democratic and Populist vote against this proposition. If they succeed in defeating the resolution the effect will be to place the silver substitute for the tariff bill before the senate, but it is expected that it will be taken up immediately. The senators incline to the belief that in no event can the tariff-silver bill be disposed of within less than a month's time.

THE BIBLE QUESTION.

court at Columbus. Judge West looked at the constitution, saw that word, "Religion," and decided that it meant "man-religion," a term never heard of from the creation and never heard of since. "Man-religion!" If he had said horse-religion he might have found some to agree with him, for we have at least heard of horse sense. Judge West then decided that there is no authority in the constitution for the reading of the Bible and that it can be left entirely with the various school boards, and that is the law of the state of Ohio today.

Now in regard to the report sent out by your school board. I was very sorry to see it. I do not know the men who prepared it. I suppose they are good men. I would not know them if I were to meet them on the street; but I am sure they did not mean what they said, and I do not think they understood the far reaching importance of their words. It was reported in the Rochester and Pittsburg papers that the Bible had been put out of the schools of East Liverpool. The Christian statesman, of Pittsburg, will have a discussion of this subject of the Bible being put out of the schools in your city.

My friends, you have before you one of the greatest of all struggles. If you want the Bible in the schools you must see to it in the election of members to the school board. This is a mightier struggle than that against slavery. Are you going to allow a selection of germs from the books of the heathen religions to stand by the word of God. Have you come to that? Much as I love our common schools, and no one can love them more than I do, I would rather see them dynamited, blown to the moon in fragments, than that the Bible should be removed from them."

In closing the speaker said: "There is now before the congress of the United States a proposed amendment to the constitution, providing that God be acknowledged as the only sovereign, Christ as the only king and the Bible as the highest law of the land; and that petitions will be circulated soon for signatures to be sent to congress, urging the same."

At the close of the meeting many friends, teachers of our schools and others, came forward to speak with Doctor George. It was a great meeting, and long to be remembered by everyone present.

CHURCH DESECRATION.

Disturbers of Public Worship Should be Arrested and Punished.

There are many young people, male and female, who seem to think they can, with impunity, misbehave in church. It is high time that they should be corrected in this idea and called to a strict account. Only last evening, in the vestibule of a place of worship in East Liverpool, two boys, ranging from 13 to 15 years of age, were busily engaged in snowballing and horse-play, much to the indignation of those who have been taught to believe that the house of God is a sacred place, and not to be used as a play house. The youngsters should be taken in charge by their parents and given a liberal supply of birch oil. In case this does not prove efficacious, then call in the aid of the law, and teach the unruly youngsters a lesson they will remember. But bad conduct is not confined to any one church in East Liverpool. Not long since, the pastor of a prominent church called on the writer and complained that a number of young men were in the habit of misbehaving in the house of God, and that he had determined to call them to account. The reverend gentleman did not desire to punish or to prosecute, but he was determined that the practice should cease in the church over which he presided, and to this end he called upon the employer of one of the young men and made the state of affairs known. The employer is a God fearing, God loving man, and he informed the pastor that he would not keep in his employ a young or old man who would so far forget his manhood as to misbehave in a place of worship, and that the offender must apologize and promise not to repeat the offense. The minister interviewed the young fellow and he apologized at once, and proved that he was more sinned against than sinning, his companion having been the main offender, accompanied by some young women who did not know how to conduct themselves properly. The pastor went to the bottom of the matter, telling the entire party of wrong-doers that he did not wish to punish them, but that punishment, hot and swift, would be dealt out in case of bad conduct in the future. The pernicious practice has been suppressed in that minister's congregation, and every minister in East Liverpool should see to it that the same policy is followed out in their respective churches. Those who go to church for the purpose of misbehaving, had better by far remain at home. One young ruffian in this city, whose father is a prominent light in church circles, and who is a good and true man, has been heard to say, when reprimanded for bad conduct in church: "I don't care, I'll do as I please." The words were noted, and he will find that he will not do as he pleases, without punishment following.

THE WEBBERS.

They Begin Their Repertoire at the Grand Tonight.

The Webber Ideals are again in the city, and will produce their popular repertoire of plays at the Grand this week, beginning with "Nip and Tuck," a comedy drama, full of fun and exciting situations. The company is a favorite with Liverpool theatergoers, and will no doubt be greeted by large houses throughout the week. Miss Jeannie Tarr, of this city, is with the company, and has been receiving flattering commendation by her clever acting and specialty work.

IT WAS A GIRL.

The Thief at the Fourth Street School Captured.

The person who has been taking various articles from the Fourth street school building has been apprehended. Janitor Albright caught a girl in the act of taking an umbrella from Miss Myers' room a few days ago and took her to Superintendent Sano's office. She was questioned and gave some flimsy excuse for her action. The superintendent severely reprimanded her and allowed her to depart upon a promise to desist from such nefarious conduct in the future.

VERY PAINFUL.

A Child—Badly Scalded Yesterday.

A child of Frank Orworth, who resides on Calcutta road, was very painfully scalded yesterday. The little girl, who is but two years and a half old, was playing about the stove, when she, in some manner, caught hold of a vessel filled with hot water, and pulled it over on herself. Her face and head were badly scalded, the skin coming off in many places. The accident, although painful, will not prove fatal.

Two Deaths Sunday.

An infant child of Jacob Yahoo, aged two months, died yesterday of spinal meningitis. The remains were taken to Louisville, Washington county, this morning, to be interred at that place.

A child of Samuel Barlow, two weeks old, died yesterday, the cause being natural weakness. The funeral took place this afternoon, with interment in Spring Grove cemetery.

Exquisite Singing.

The audience assembled at the First M. E. church on Sunday night had a rich treat in the singing of Miss Berenice Dunlap, and the melody evoked by the young lady was the subject of much favorable comment by music lovers. Miss Dunlap has a voice of rare sweetness, and her friends should see to it that she has the opportunity of cultivating this most precious gift.

Entered a House.

A man named George Wilson, of Empire, was arrested on Saturday night by Officer Wan for breaking into a dwelling house in West End. He was drunk, and was allowed to go this morning. The patrol had a call to California Hollow also on Saturday night. Joseph Malone was disturbing the place when the officer arrived on the scene, but had flown.

Getting In Condition.

The association football team, despite the mud on the ball ground practiced all of Saturday afternoon. The club is getting in condition for their game with the West Side Athletic club, of Cleveland, which takes place in that city on Feb. 22. Word was received from the McDonald team, but their terms were too high for the local team.

At the regular meeting tomorrow night six applicants who were acted favorably upon at the last meeting will also be initiated. The organization is rapidly growing in strength and is in a flourishing condition.

AN IMPECUNIOUS ONE.

THE BOLD GAME OF BLUFF HE PLAYED ON THE CONDUCTOR.

He Was Not a Gambler or a Drummer, but a Bank Clerk—According to the Man Who Tells the Story, He Ought to Be an Actor—Oh, It Was Wicked!

He sat in a hotel smoking room. The air was blue, but men were happy—happy and reminiscent. He stretched out his legs, thrust his hands deep into his pockets, and between the puffs spun this yarn:

"For dead cold, icy nerve I had always thought we traveling men took the cake. But the prettiest game of bluff I ever saw was put up by a man who was neither a drummer nor a reporter, but merely an overworked bank clerk who had applied for a leave of absence and gone south to recuperate. He had drawn a certain sum for the trip and resolved not to exceed it. Foolishly he had neglected to buy an excursion ticket, arguing that he might want to return by a different route. And then, as a matter of course, he found that he had spent his money not wisely but too well, so that he was hundreds of miles from home, ticketless and friendless and well nigh penniless. His checkbook was useless, for no one knew him and he must be identified."

"All this I learned later on. My acquaintance with him began on the train of one of the southern roads, when he asked me to stake him enough to see him home. I had already been 'touched' several times that trip, so, expressing every confidence in his probity, I declined the honor he would do me. He tried several other passengers with a like result. Then he gave it up, but made us all promise not to interfere with any game he tried to play."

"Presently the conductor came along. The impecunious one, his hat cocked over one eye, was peacefully sleeping in one corner of his seat, leaning toward an open window. The conductor shook him, gently at first, so that he stirred, and his hat dropped farther over his eye, but he did not wake. Then more roughly, saying, 'Come, sir, your ticket, please.'"

"At that the impecunious one awoke with a big start. His hat flew out of the window, and he flew into a great rage. He swore at the conductor and abused him up and down, and his forefathers unto the third and fourth generation. What did he mean by waking him in that way? Didn't he know that rest was invaluable to an invalid? That such a sudden, rude awakening might be fatal to a weak heart? Were his nerves of no account? And now he had lost his hat and would catch cold. It was outrageous."

"The impecunious one felt in all his pockets, went through them all again with a bewildered air. Finally he broke out: 'Why, you idiot, you, all my tickets, not only on this road, but straight through to Chicago, were in the lining of my hat, and you knocked it out of the window. I'm in a pretty pickle now. I haven't enough with me to buy a fresh set. This piece of idiocy will cost you your job. I'll report you to the company and teach you to be more careful how you startle a nervous man.'"

"And it was only a bluff all so well carried out that the conductor was completely taken in, and the rest of us rubbed our eyes and wondered whether the impecunious one's attempt to touch us was not, after all, a dream."

"Later on, traveling over that same road, I told the conductor how he had been worked. And he said he knew it, for shortly after that trip he had received a letter and a check, the former confessing the fraud, the latter paying him the full price of the passage. And he added: 'That fellow was a genius. If he had made a fuss at first about his tickets, I'd have been on to him in a minute, but his tickets were forgotten. It was his nerves, his health, his heart, his hat that were of importance. And to think that he had no nerves, or health, or hat—or heart. Oh, it was wicked! But that man has missed his vocation. He ought to be on the stage.'"—Chicago Tribune.

A Little Bit Hasty.

"Doctor," said a distressed wife to the family physician, as he was coming down stairs from his patient's room, "can you give me no hope of my husband? Can nothing be done?" "Madam," said the delighted doctor, rubbing his hands, "allow me to congratulate you. Our patient has taken a turn for the better, and now we may hope to have him about again in a few weeks."

"Oh, doctor!" exclaimed the horrified lady, throwing up her hands. "You told me he could not possibly get better, and I have sold all his clothes!"—Parrson's Weekly.

Pierce (chief consulting physician and specialist to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. When in doubt as to your ailment write him, it will cost you nothing. A Book on "Woman and Her Diseases," published by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., is of interest to all women. It will be sent for ten cents in stamps.

When women are afflicted with nervousness, irritability, nervous prostration or exhaustion and sleeplessness, in nine cases out of ten the source of the trouble is some displacement, irregularity or derangement of the special internal parts. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures permanently such cases as well as that distressing internal discharge from the mucous membrane, inflammation and ulceration.

Brooklyn, Jackson Co., Mich.
Gentlemen—I am more than willing to say your most valuable medicine has cured me of female weakness and a catarrhal discharge from the lining membranes of the special parts. I could not sleep on a mattress; it seemed as though it would kill me. Since taking the medicine I can sleep anywhere; I am perfectly well. I would not be placed in my former condition for any money. Gratefully yours,

Mrs. J. H. Parker

THE BIBLE QUESTION.

court at Columbus. Judge West looked at the constitution, saw that word, "Religion," and decided that it meant "man-religion," a term never heard of from the creation and never heard of since. "Man-religion!" If he had said horse-religion he might have found some to agree with him, for we have at least heard of horse sense. Judge West then decided that there is no authority in the constitution for the reading of the Bible and that it can be left entirely with the various school boards, and that is the law of the state of Ohio today.

Now in regard to the report sent out by your school board. I was very sorry to see it. I do not know the men who prepared it. I suppose they are good men. I would not know them if I were to meet them on the street; but I am sure they did not mean what they said, and I do not think they understood the far reaching importance of their words. It was reported in the Rochester and Pittsburg papers that the Bible had been put out of the schools of East Liverpool. The Christian statesman, of Pittsburg, will have a discussion of this subject of the Bible being put out of the schools in your city.

My friends, you have before you one of the greatest of all struggles. If you want the Bible in the schools you must see to it in the election of members to the school board. This is a mightier struggle than that against slavery. Are you going to allow a selection of germs from the books of the heathen religions to stand by the word of God. Have you come to that? Much as I love our common schools, and no one can love them more than I do, I would rather see them dynamited, blown to the moon in fragments, than that the Bible should be removed from them."

In closing the speaker said: "There is now before the congress of the United States a proposed amendment to the constitution, providing that God be acknowledged as the only sovereign, Christ as the only king and the Bible as the highest law of the land; and that petitions will be circulated soon for signatures to be sent to congress, urging the same."

At the close of the meeting many friends, teachers of our schools and others, came forward to speak with Doctor George. It was a great meeting, and long to be remembered by everyone present.

CHURCH DESECRATION.

Disturbers of Public Worship Should be Arrested and Punished.

There are many young people, male and female, who seem to think they can, with impunity, misbehave in church. It is high time that they should be corrected in this idea and called to a strict account. Only last evening, in the vestibule of a place of worship in East Liverpool, two boys, ranging from 13 to 15 years of age, were busily engaged in snowballing and horse-play, much to the indignation of those who have been taught to believe that the house of God is a sacred place, and not to be used as a play house. The youngsters should be taken in charge by their parents and given a liberal supply of birch oil. In case this does not prove efficacious, then call in the aid of the law, and teach the unruly youngsters a lesson they will remember. But bad conduct is not confined to any one church in East Liverpool. Not long since, the pastor of a prominent church called on the writer and complained that a number of young men were in the habit of misbehaving in the house of God, and that he had determined to call them to account. The reverend gentleman did not desire to punish or to prosecute, but he was determined that the practice should cease in the church over which he presided, and to this end he called upon the employer of one of the young men and made the state of affairs known. The employer is a God fearing, God loving man, and he informed the pastor that he would not keep in his employ a young or old man who would so far forget his manhood as to misbehave in a place of worship, and that the offender must apologize and promise not to repeat the offense. The minister interviewed the young fellow and he apologized at once, and proved that he was more sinned against than sinning, his companion having been the main offender, accompanied by some young women who did not know how to conduct themselves properly. The pastor went to the bottom of the matter, telling the entire party of wrong-doers that he did not wish to punish them, but that punishment, hot and swift, would be dealt out in case of bad conduct in the future. The pernicious practice has been suppressed in that minister's congregation, and every minister in East Liverpool should see to it that the same policy is followed out in their respective churches. Those who go to church for the purpose of misbehaving, had better by far remain at home. One young ruffian in this city, whose father is a prominent light in church circles, and who is a good and true man, has been heard to say, when reprimanded for bad conduct in church: "I don't care, I'll do as I please." The words were noted, and he will find that he will not do as he pleases, without punishment following.

THE WEBBERS.

They Begin Their Repertoire at the Grand Tonight.

The Webber Ideals are again in the city, and will produce their popular repertoire of plays at the Grand this week, beginning with "Nip and Tuck," a comedy drama, full of fun and exciting situations. The company is a favorite with Liverpool theatergoers, and will no doubt be greeted by large houses throughout the week. Miss Jeannie Tarr, of this city, is with the company, and has been receiving flattering commendation by her clever acting and specialty work.

IT WAS A GIRL.

The Thief at the Fourth Street School Captured.

The person who has been taking various articles from the Fourth street school building has been apprehended. Janitor Albright caught a girl in the act of taking an umbrella from Miss Myers' room a few days ago and took her to Superintendent Samor's office. She was questioned and gave some flimsy excuse for her action. The superintendent severely reprimanded her and allowed her to depart upon a promise to desist from such nefarious conduct in the future.

VERY PAINFUL.

A Child Badly Scalded Yesterday.

A child of Frank Orworth, who resides on Calcutta road, was very painfully scalded yesterday. The little girl, who is but two years and a half old, was playing about the stove, when she, in some manner, caught hold of a vessel filled with hot water, and pulled it over on herself. Her face and head were badly scalded, the skin coming off in many places. The accident, although painful, will not prove fatal.

Two Deaths Sunday.

An infant child of Jacob Yaho, aged two months, died yesterday of spinal meningitis. The remains were taken to Louisville, Washington county, this morning, to be interred at that place.

A child of Samuel Barlow, two weeks old, died yesterday, the cause being natural weakness. The funeral took place this afternoon, with interment in Spring Grove cemetery.

Exquisite Singing.

The audience assembled at the First M. E. church on Sunday night had a rich treat in the singing of Miss Berenice Dunlap, and the melody evoked by the young lady was the subject of much favorable comment by music lovers. Miss Dunlap has a voice of rare sweetness, and her friends should see to it that she has the opportunity of cultivating this most precious gift.

Entered a House.

A man named George Wilson, of Empire, was arrested on Saturday night by Officer Wian for breaking into a dwelling house in West End. He was drunk, and was allowed to go this morning. The patrol had a call to California Hollow also on Saturday night. Joseph Malone was disturbing the place when the officer arrived on the scene, but had flown.

Getting in Condition.

The association football team, despite the mud on the ball ground practiced all of Saturday afternoon. The club is getting in condition for their game with the West Side Athletic club, of Cleveland, which takes place in that city on Feb. 22. Word was received from the McDonald team, but their terms were too high for the local team.

AN IMPECUNIOUS ONE.

THE BOLD GAME OF BLUFF HE PLAYED ON THE CONDUCTOR.

He Was Not a Gambler or a Drummer, but a Bank Clerk—According to the Man Who Tells the Story, He Ought to Be an Actor—Oh, It Was Wicked!

He sat in a hotel smoking room. The air was blue, but men were happy—happy and reminiscent. He stretched out his legs, thrust his hands deep into his pockets, and between the puffs spun this yarn:

"For dead cold, icy nerve I had always thought we traveling men took the cake. But the prettiest game of bluff I ever saw was put up by a man who was neither a drummer nor a reporter, but merely an overworked bank clerk who had applied for a leave of absence and gone south to recuperate. He had drawn a certain sum for the trip and resolved not to exceed it. Foolishly he had neglected to buy an excursion ticket, arguing that he might want to return by a different route. And then, as a matter of course, he found that he had spent his money not wisely but too well, so that he was hundreds of miles from home, ticketless and friendless and well nigh penniless. His checkbook was useless, for no one knew him and he must be identified."

"All this I learned later on. My acquaintance with him began on the train of one of the southern roads, when he asked me to stake him enough to see him home. I had already been 'touched' several times that trip, so, expressing every confidence in his probity, I declined the honor he would do me. He tried several other passengers with a like result. Then he gave it up, but made us all promise not to interfere with any game he tried to play."

"Presently the conductor came along. The impecunious one, his hat cocked over one eye, was peacefully sleeping in one corner of his seat, leaning toward an open window. The conductor shook him, gently at first, so that he stirred, and his hat dropped farther over his eye, but he did not wake. Then more roughly, saying, 'Come, sir, your ticket, please.'"

"At that the impecunious one awoke with a big start. His hat flew out of the window, and he flew into a great rage. He swore at the conductor and abused him up and down, him and his forefathers unto the third and fourth generation. What did he mean by waking him in that way? Didn't he know that rest was invaluable to an invalid? That such a sudden, rude awakening might be fatal to a weak heart? Were his nerves of no account? And now he had lost his hat and would catch cold. It was outrageous."

"The impecunious one felt in all his pockets, went through them all again with a bewildered air. Finally he broke out: 'Why, you idiot, you, all my tickets, not only on this road, but straight through to Chicago, were in the lining of my hat, and you knocked it out of the window. I'm in a pretty pickle now. I haven't enough with me to buy a fresh set. This piece of idiocy will cost you your job. I'll report you to the company and teach you to be more careful how you startle a nervous man.'"

"And it was only a bluff all so well carried out that the conductor was completely taken in, and the rest of us rubbed our eyes and wondered whether the impecunious one's attempt to touch us was not, after all, a dream."

"Later on, traveling over that same road, I told the conductor how he had been fooled. And he said he knew it, for shortly after that trip he had received a letter and a check, the former confessing the fraud, the latter paying him the full price of the passage. And he added: 'That fellow was a genius. If he had made a fuss at first about his tickets, I'd have been on to him in a minute, but his tickets were forgotten. It was his nerves, his health, his heart, his hat that were of importance. And to think that he had no nerves, or health, or hat—or heart. Oh, it was wicked! But that man has missed his vocation. He ought to be on the stage.'"—Chicago Tribune.

A Little Bit Hasty.

"Doctor," said a distressed wife to the family physician, as he was coming down stairs from his patient's room, "can you give me no hope of my husband? Can nothing be done?" "Madam," said the delighted doctor, rubbing his hands, "allow me to congratulate you. Our patient has taken a turn for the better, and now we may hope to have him about again in a few weeks."

female functions can find renewed strength and health by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For the pains and aches, periods of melancholy and sleeplessness—nothing can do you so much permanent good as this vegetable compound. You save the doctor's fee, as well as your modesty, by purchasing this "Prescription" of Doctor Pierce. For a great many years Dr. R. V. Pierce (chief consulting physician and specialist to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y.) made a specialty of the diseases of women, and from his large experience he was able to compound a "Prescription" which acted directly upon the special internal parts of women. When in doubt as to your ailment write him, it will cost you nothing. A Book, on "Woman and Her Diseases," published by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., is of interest to all women. It will be sent for ten cents in stamps.

When women are afflicted with nervousness, irritability, nervous prostration or exhaustion and sleeplessness, in nine cases out of ten the source of the trouble is some displacement, irregularity or derangement of the special internal parts. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures permanently such cases as well as that distressing internal discharge from the mucous membrane, inflammation and ulceration.

Gentlemen—I am more than willing to say your most valuable medicine has cured me of female weakness and a catarrhal discharge from the lining membrane of the special parts. I suffered for years with pain in my back, never a night was I free. At your request I commenced treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I could not sleep on a mattress; it seemed as though it would kill me. Since taking the medicine I can sleep anywhere. I am perfectly well. I would not be placed in my former condition for any money. Gratefully yours,

Mrs. J. H. Parker
